FOUNDER'S Desk

I greet you all in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

As we look back on the past few months, our hearts are overflowing with gratitude for God's unwavering faithfulness and your incredible support. Together, we are not just building structures; we are nurturing lives and uplifting communities in line with Galatians 6:9: "Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up."

A few weeks ago, when our students went back to school, we needed a significant amount of money for the third-term school fees. I went to sleep feeling very peaceful, even though we did not have the funds required for those 151 children plus the 27 others, and we had no idea where the money would come from. However, we had faith that God would provide. I had just finished reading a book titled Where He Calls, He Provides. In the third week of the school being re-opened after the holidays, our miracle happened through Roswell Presbyterian Church G.A. We received the exact amount we needed, our financial concerns immediately vanished, and all the needs of our children were mightily met.

My gratitude goes to all our mission partners, Roswell Presbyterian Church, our donors, affiliated organizations, LISH LAB, Daraja 360, volunteers, employees, our learners, their guardians, and all our stakeholder

As we reflect on our milestones and prepare for the opportunities of the coming year, let us remember that every scholarship awarded is a seed planted for the Kingdom. Together, we have removed financial barriers for young men and women, equipping them to pursue academic excellence and walk boldly into their divine callings.

Thank you for your dedication, your prayers, and your shared vision as we continue to empower students to change the world for Christ

Best regards,

Zablon Kuria - Founder

Executive Summary

Every good and perfect gift is from above," and this year has been a testament to that truth as we celebrate a season of abundance and impact. From the classrooms of our primary schools to the lecture halls of our college scholars, God has unlocked incredible potential in our students. Beyond education, our social enterprises have flourished as a ministry of their own, delivering life-giving water through our truck services.

SCHOLARSHIP

R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries continues to invest in the education and holistic development of vulnerable children and young people through its scholarship program. This year, the program supported 151 learners in primary and secondary/high school, alongside 27 university students.

Through the generous support received, the ministry has experienced what we describe as supernatural provision, enabling us to meet the educational and personal needs of the students. The support covers tuition and school fees, school supplies, and essential personal necessities, allowing learners to remain in school and pursue their education with greater stability.

The learners are generally progressing well in their studies, demonstrating the positive impact of consistent educational support.
Five university students are expected to graduate by the end of 2026 and are currently completing their graduation processes.

At the same time, five new university students have joined the scholarship program, ensuring continued investment in young people's education beyond secondary school.

Beyond academic support, the program seeks to provide encouragement, mentorship, and practical support to students facing difficult circumstances.

The program therefore continues to provide more than financial assistance; it creates an opportunity for vulnerable learners to remain in school, develop their potential, and work toward a more stable future.

Challenges

Despite the progress achieved, several challenges continue to affect some of the learners.

Many of the learners supported by R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries come from highly vulnerable and challenging family environments that significantly affect their education, emotional well-being, and ability to reach their full potential. While access to education is important, these learners often face challenges outside the classroom that require much more than financial support for school fees.

Some learners live with guardians who are hostile, unsupportive, or physically abusive. Instead of home being a place of safety and encouragement, these learners may experience violence, harsh treatment, intimidation, and emotional distress. Such experiences can affect their concentration, confidence, academic performance, and overall well-being.

A number of learners have lost one or both parents and are growing up without the parental care and financial support that many children depend on. Some are placed under the care of relatives or guardians who may themselves have limited resources. The loss of a parent can also create significant emotional and psychological challenges, while the financial burden may place their education at risk. Four of our learners lost their parents and guardians this year.

Some learners also live in environments affected by crime, sexual exploitation and risky sexual behaviors, alcohol, and substance abuse. These social challenges expose young people to circumstances that can negatively affect their education and prospects.

Other learners have parents who are physically or emotionally absent from their lives. Some parents live far away, while others are unable or unwilling to provide consistent parental care and support. As a result, some learners are left to navigate life with limited adult supervision, guidance, and protection.

The dynamics of our scholarship program mean that student demographics and numbers fluctuate. At times, enrollment decreases when learners are influenced by harsh environmental factors such as crime, drug abuse, and street life. Sadly, despite our best efforts to keep them engaged, two of our high school learners returned to the streets this year. These situations demonstrate that educational support alone cannot always address the complex social and family circumstances affecting vulnerable children.

For many of these learners, educational support represents more than an opportunity to study,it represents a pathway out of vulnerability and an opportunity to build a better future.

The RBM Scholarship Program continues to make a meaningful difference in the lives of children and young people by providing access to education and meeting essential school-related needs. The successful progress of our learners, the five students preparing to graduate from college, and the seven new university students joining the program are significant milestones.

While challenges remain, particularly among learners from highly vulnerable backgrounds, RBM remains committed to walking alongside these young people and creating opportunities for them to pursue education, develop their potential, and build better futures.

Solutions to Problem experienced by our Learners;

Partnering with local child welfare agencies, and community leaders to intervene in severe cases of physical abuse, ensuring immediate safety or alternative foster placements when necessary.

• Pair orphaned learners with trusted adult mentors who can provide consistent adult supervision and Set up an emergency fund specifically designed to cover the immediate food, clothing, and healthcare costs for learners who experience sudden parental loss (such as the four learners lost this year).

• Secure enough Financial resources to: -

a) Hosting mandatory workshops for guardians focuses on positive parenting, the value of education, and the psychological impact of trauma.

b) Provide Caregiver Economic Empowerment, Offer the resource-limited relatives caring for these orphan's access to , vocational training, income-generating projects to relieve the financial strain on the household.

c) Develop a Standardized Mentorship Program: Recruit and train dedicated volunteers to act as consistent, present adult figures who check in weekly on learners' academic progress and emotional states.

d) Provide Alternative Positive Outlets: Keep youth engaged through sports teams, arts, music, and leadership clubs during school breaks and weekends to drastically reduce exposure to negative neighborhood influences.

e) Continuing Life Skills and Peer Resistance Programs, we have structured extracurricular programs that teach learners about the dangers of substance abuse, reproductive health, rights awareness, and how to safely navigate risky social environments.

SCHOLARSHIP

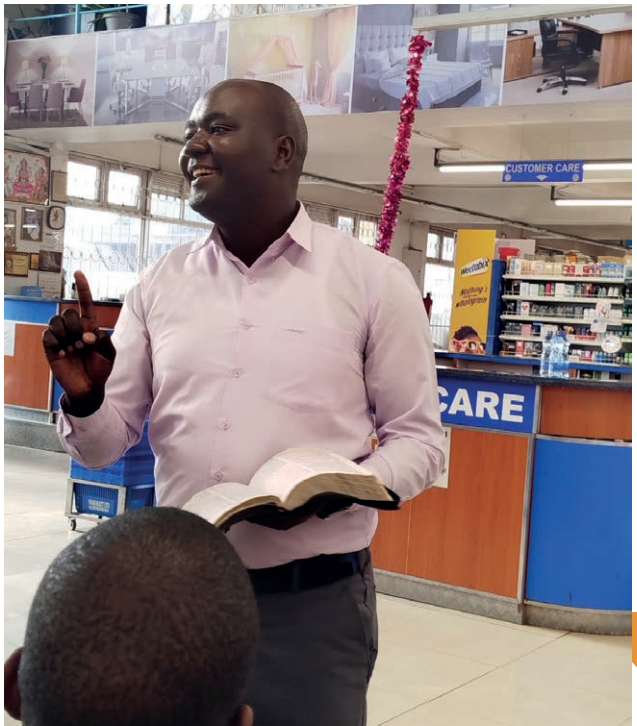

Workplace Ministries

Workplace Ministries focuses on bringing the Gospel directly to people at their places of work, creating opportunities for individuals to encounter the love of God in their everyday environments.

Over the past nine months of this year, R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries has successfully served 27 different workplaces, conducting a weekly service at each location lasting an a average of 10 - 15 minutes. The workplaces served include hospitality establishments, automotive garages, hospitals, and various local businesses.

The Ministry has experienced encouraging results through consistent presence and fellowship in the workplace. Communion and fellowship have provided opportunities for believers to strengthen their faith and build meaningful relationships.

The consistent weekly engagement has helped establish relationships and create an environment where people can openly engage with matters of faith. Through testimonies and personal interactions, the Ministry continues to witness the impact of God's love in the lives of individuals and within workplaces.

Current Challenges

As the Ministry continues to grow, several challenges have emerged:

Limited personnel: The demand for workplace Ministry has increased, but there are currently not enough ministry personnel to efficiently cover all the workplaces seeking or requiring regular Ministry.

Reaching multiple workplaces every week requires effective coordination, transportation, scheduling, and allocation of Ministry teams.

Resistance from some quarters: In some workplaces and environments, there is resistance or hesitation toward receiving Christian Ministry. This requires wisdom, patience, relationship - building, and sensitivity to the different workplace environments.

Proposition

Workplace Ministries continues to provide a practical avenue for taking the Gospel beyond traditional church settings and into the daily lives of working people. Reaching 27 workplaces within nine months demonstrates the growing opportunity for Ministry in this area.

As the ministry looks ahead, there is a need to raise and equip more Ministry personnel, strengthen logistical capacity, and continue building relationships with workplaces. We remain grateful for every opportunity to share the Gospel, demonstrate the love of God, and build fellowship within the workplace community.

Social Enterprises

Sustaining Communities: Water Enterprise

R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries operates a water supply business as part of its social enterprise initiatives. The business was established to provide reliable access to water to households, institutions, businesses, and other members of the community while generating income to support the ministry's wider programs, including education and community development.

The Ministry currently operates three water trucks with capacities of 10,000 litres, 6,000 litres, and 5,000 litres.

The water business has become an important service to communities that experience unreliable water supply. Through the delivery of water by truck, RBM helps households, businesses, institutions, and other customers access water when their regular sources are unavailable or insufficient.

Employment and livelihoods: The operation creates work opportunities for drivers and other personnel involved in the water business.

Current Challenges

Despite its positive community impact, the water business is currently experiencing operational challenges.

a) High and fluctuating fuel costs

Fuel is one of the major operating expenses because trucks have to travel to water sources and deliver water to different customers. Raising fuel costs increase the cost of each delivery and reduce the profitability of the business.

b) Inadequate water from boreholes

The availability of water from boreholes has becomes a significant challenge. When boreholes have insufficient water, the trucks are unable to operate at full capacity, resulting in fewer deliveries and increased waiting and transportation costs.

c) Increased operational costs

The combination of fuel expenses, vehicle maintenance, and limited availability of water sources places additional pressure on the sustainability of the business.

Resolution

RBM's water business continues to serve an important community need while providing an income-generating avenue for the Ministry. The three trucks, provide significant potential for expanding water access and strengthening the ministry's social enterprise activities.

However, addressing reliable access to water sources is essential for improving the efficiency and sustainability of operation. Strengthening borehole partnerships, exploring additional reliable water sources, will help RBM maximize the social and financial impact of the water business.

Holiday Home; Lodge With A Purpose

R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries continues to develop the Holiday Home Project, a hospitality social enterprise designed to generate sustainable income that will contribute to the Ministry's long-term programs, particularly education and community development.

Blocks 1 & 2 have been successfully completed and are ready to welcome guests. Block 3 is yet to be constructed, the Ministry is working towards its construction as the final block for Phase One.

The completed units provide a foundation for the Holiday Home to begin generating hospitality income.

The project is establishing a sustainable social enterprise that will contribute to the long-term financial sustainability of RBM and support its Ministry programs.

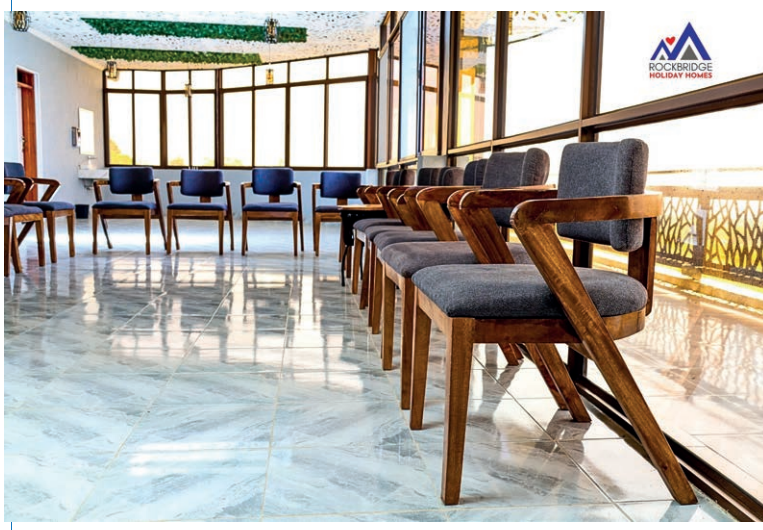

Current Challenges and Resource Needs

We are seeking to secure sufficient financial resources to complete the remaining work required for Phase One.

This includes;

- The construction of Block 3 and its associated works
- Completion of the reception area, which is essential for the professional operation and welcoming of guests.
- Fencing of the property to enhance security.

- Installation of street lighting toward the property to improve security and accessibility.
- Construction and completion of the main gate.
- Completion of the driveway and access road to provide suitable access for guests and vehicles.

The incomplete reception, together with the outstanding external infrastructure and furnishing, means that additional resources are still required before the project can operate at its full intended capacity.

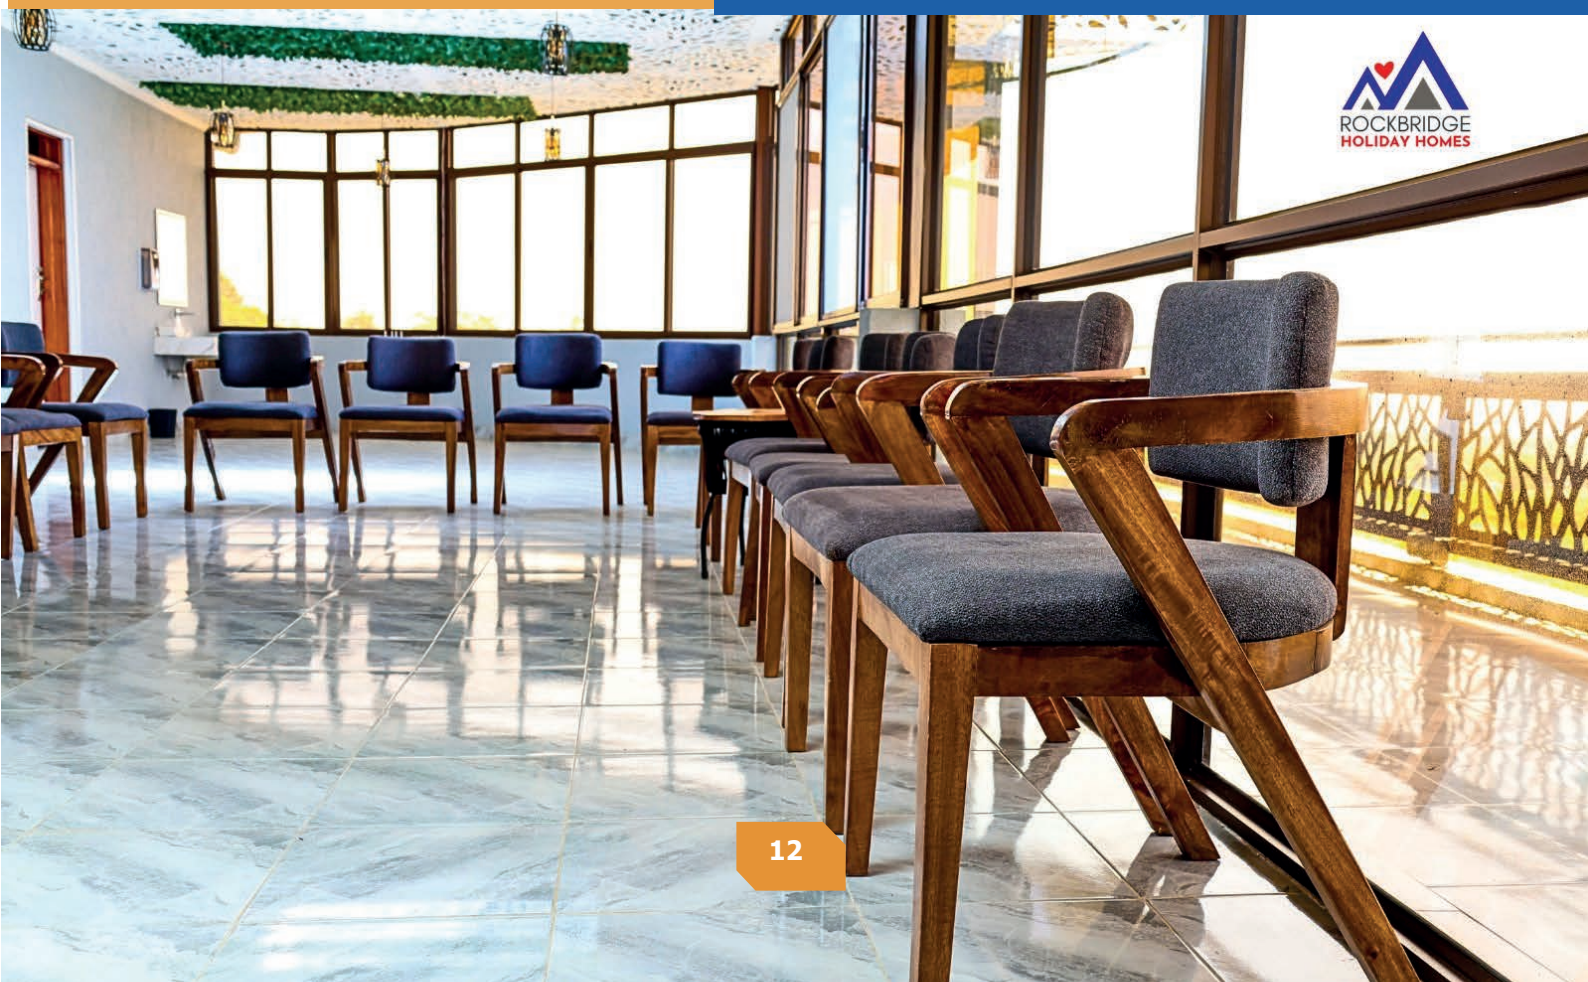

RESOLUTION

The Holiday Home Project has made significant progress, with Blocks 1 and 2 completed and ready to receive guests, while looking forward to the construction of Block 3. Although several important components remain unfinished, the project is steadily moving toward completion. Therefore, fully establish the Holiday Home as a sustainable hospitality enterprise.

We remain grateful for God's provision and for every partner whose contribution has helped move this vision forward. The completion of Phase One will mark an important milestone toward creating a sustainable income stream that can strengthen RBM's education, community outreach, and other Ministry programs.

Beneficiaries Voices

From the bottom of my heart, thank you so much for believing in me and supporting me. Words cannot fully express how grateful I am for everything you have done for me.

By paying for my training and providing me with accommodation, you gave me much more than financial support, you gave me an opportunity to learn, grow, and change the direction of my life. Every day, I had a safe place to return to after training, and every morning, I woke up with another opportunity to learn and build a better future because of your kindness and generosity.

The skills I have gained are a gift that no one can ever take away from me. They will remain with me for the rest of my life and give me the confidence and ability to create opportunities for myself and build a better future.

I truly believe that this opportunity is part of God's purpose for my life, and I trust Him to continue guiding my steps as I move forward. I will always remember the people who believed in me and chose to invest in my future when it mattered most.

Thank you for your generosity, for believing in me, and for making such a meaningful and life-changing difference in my life. I appreciate each one of you more than words can express.

May God richly bless you, reward your kindness abundantly, and continue to use you to transform many more lives.

With sincere gratitude and appreciation

JANET KINUTHIA

My name is Janet Kinuthia, a fourth-year nursing student at Kenyatta University.

My journey to university has not been easy. I grew up in a difficult home environment marked by domestic violence and the separation of my parents. At one point, the challenges I faced left me feeling hopeless about my ability to continue with my education and achieve my dreams.

Then R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries came into my life. Through the support I received from RBM, a dream that I had almost given up on was revived. Their support gave me the opportunity to continue my education and pursue my goal of becoming a nurse.

Today, I am in my fourth year of nursing school, and I am grateful to be closer than ever to achieving the dream I once thought was impossible. RBM did not just support my education, they helped restore my hope and gave me another reason to believe in my future.

I will forever be grateful to R.O.C.K Bridge Ministries and everyone who has supported me along this journey. Their investment in my life has made a lasting difference, and I hope that one day I will be able to make the same difference in the lives of others.

Thank you, RBM, for believing in me and helping me believe in my dream again
